

Dear Eldy ☺

I have been thinking of you, at this time of year especially, and knowing that it must be very difficult to realize that a year has passed without the presence of dear Cathy. In a way, it is hard to realize that her radiant life has ended.

I am sure that she knows that she was very special to me. She began as Christina's especially cherished friend, but soon became my kindred spirit, too, and we shared the same kind of humor. I miss her!

She was the first one I thought of when some delightfully funny predicament befell me, and I would visit her the details, knowing she would like to share the fun. There were some distressing times too, but her empathy always made them seem less grim.

I am happy that your beautiful wedding was just as gorgeous and perfect as she dreamed it could be.

I remember her delight when she found The Perfect Dress!! and then her determination to remain that exact size so that she would fit it on June 1975.

Everything about that day seemed like a dream come true. I remember the rich, mellow cello sound of the music and those exquisite floral arrangements of fragrant Cella lilies - as I recall, Jean de Bach arranged them, but I may be wrong about that because I know that all of her friends wanted to participate in the magic day in some way. I visualize how beautiful the two of you were as you danced together. It is wonderful that she could know the happiness of finding such a lovable young man for her husband.

I am glad that you shared your new address with Tina so that I could have it.

Much love,

Winnie Geissler
